

Design a Date

A Fairly Good Date

One activity that's associated with summer in the U.S. is the county and state fairs. Whether you're in the U.S. or somewhere else in the world, outdoor fairs, exhibitions, and festivals are plentiful in the summertime.

For this date, you'll set aside a day to explore a fair or a festival in your area. Do your research and find out the dates, then mark your calendar and make it happen!

Hold hands, enjoy some cotton candy, ride the ferris wheel, explore exhibits, laugh, take some selfies, and have fun together!

Make it a "yes" day, if possible. Try your best to say "yes" to each other's desires throughout the day. Be curious, noticing the things that excite your spouse.

More than anything, enjoy much-needed time together!
